HOME RUNS, SETTING NEW MARK

He decided it was time to set up a new record yesterday, so he landed on Dickie Kerr and drove a couple of balls into the stands. Now that this little detail is off his mind, he's devoting his four-base inclination to another important duty-being to bust out forty H. R.'s. Yes, sir, and he has made the greatest city in the world go "off its nut" over baseball.

It is not surprising that he has not been called on to bust with runners on the bases, but it is a peculiar circumstance that none of his long flee to the outfield has scored a men from third. Babe's idea arems to be a home run or nothing.
